

Tabitha Jenkins is Senior Employment Counsel for Burlington Coat Factory Warehouse Corporation in Burlington, New Jersey. Tabitha joined Burlington Coat Factory in August 2011 after working in various legal positions at Macy's, Inc., last as Senior Counsel in the Operations Group where she served as the practice area facilitator for Company's Loss Prevention groups. Tabitha began her legal career at The May Department Stores Company in St. Louis, Missouri. During her legal career Tabitha has worked in the Litigation, Labor & Employment, and Operations law groups.

Tabitha graduated with a B.A. in History from Middlebury College in Middlebury, VT in 1992. She graduated from Washington University School of Law in St. Louis in 1999. At Washington University Tabitha was able to indulge in her love of argument winning the Judge Amandus Brackman Moot Court Prize at graduation for her success in the Wiley Rutledge Moot Court competitions during her second and third years of law school.

Tabitha was a Fellow in the inaugural class of the Leadership Council on Legal Diversity. The LCLD Fellows Program is designed to connect high-potential attorneys (Fellows) with General Counsels and Managing Partners from preeminent organizations for a year-long professional development program that focuses on relationship-building and leadership skills, with an emphasis on mentoring the next generation of legal leaders. Tabitha hopes to use the skills learned in the Program in her new position at Burlington Coat Factory.

Tabitha is a member of the Missouri and Illinois Bars and resides in Philadelphia.
